c. A Brief Explanation of the Condominium Concept.

The term “condominium” refers to a form of property ownership. Property which is owned as a Condominium contains two (2) distinct types of property – Units and Common Area. Units are portions of a Condominium which are set aside for individual ownership. In the case of a residential condominium, the Units are the separate living quarters which may be used only by the Unit Owner. Common Areas, on the other hand, are all portions of the Condominium which are not included within the Units. The Common Area constitutes the land and those improvements which support, enclose or service the Units. Each Unit Owner owns an “undivided interest” in the Common Area. An undivided interest is a fractional percentage share of ownership of all the Common Area. In this Condominium, each Unit will have an equal undivided interest in the Common Area of 2.875% which will sometimes hereafter be referred to as a “Percentage Interest”. The ownership of an undivided interest gives the Unit Owner the right to participate in the control and management of all the Common Area through a condominium association but such ownership carries with it the obligation of each Unit Owner to pay his/her share of the normal expenses of operating and maintaining all of the Common Area.

Certain portions of the Common Area of the Condominium are designated as Limited Common Area. A Limited Common Area is a portion of the Common Area assigned to a particular Unit or Units in the case of any shared driveways. The Unit(s) Owner(s) to whom a Limited Common Area is assigned has an exclusive right to use the Limited Common Area.

The Condominium also includes agreements among the Unit Owners regulating the administration and maintenance of the property. These agreements are called the Bylaws and the Condominium Rules, if any. The Bylaws and Rules bind the individual Unit Owners and restrict what a Unit Owner may do with his Unit. It also includes an organization called a “Condominium Association” which manages the affairs of the Condominium.

d. A Brief Explanation of the Manner in which the Condominium will be Created.

The Condominium will be created by the Declarant, in accordance with the condominium laws of New Hampshire. The provisions of the Bylaws are applicable to the Condominium, and the use, occupancy, sale, lease or other transfer thereof. All present and future Unit Owners, shall be subject to these Bylaws and to the Rules of the Condominium.

The Declaration is the legal document which creates the Condominium. The Declaration becomes effective when recorded in the Hillsborough County Registry of Deeds. The Declaration establishes the boundaries of the Condominium as a whole, as well as the Units and the boundaries of and Percentage of Interest in the Common Area appertaining to each Unit. In addition, the Declaration establishes special property rights within the Condominium, such as Limited Common Area and easements (both discussed in following sections).

Prior to the conveyance of any Unit to an owner other than the Declarant, the Declaration and Bylaws may be amended at any time by the Declarant. In addition, the Declarant reserves the right to itself and its successors in interest to amend the Declaration and Bylaws without the consent of any Unit Owners or first mortgage holders, but only to: (a) correct typographical errors; or (b) to bring the Declaration and Bylaws in compliance with law, or (c) to conform the Declaration and Bylaws to the requirements of FNMA and FHLMC (or any successors thereto) loan guaranty underwriting requirements.

Subsequent to the conveyance of a Unit to an owner other than the Declarant and except as provided above, the Declaration and Bylaws may be amended, only by an instrument in writing approved and agreed to by owners of Units to which two-thirds (2/3) of the voting power in the Condominium Association appertain, provided that: (a) No instrument of amendment which alters the dimensions of any Unit shall be of any force or effect unless signed by the owner(s) and any lender of record of the altered Unit; (b) No instrument of amendment which alters the percentage of undivided interest in the Common Area, the liability for Common Expenses, or the voting rights in the Condominium Association appurtenant to any Unit shall be of any force or effect unless the same is permitted or required by the Declaration and Bylaws, is consistent with the applicable provisions of law, has been approved and agreed to by all the Owners and any lenders of record of the Units affected thereby; (c) No instrument of amendment which alters the Declaration and Bylaws in any manner which would render any of them contrary to or inconsistent with any requirements or provisions of law shall be of any force or effect; (d) No instrument of amendment which purports to affect the Declarant's reserved rights of control shall be of any force and effect unless it is assented to in writing by the Declarant; (e) No instrument of amendment which purports to affect the Declarant's reserved rights and easements shall be of any force and effect unless it is assented to in writing by the Declarant; and (f) No instrument of amendment which would adversely affect the Declarant's right and ability to develop and/or market the Condominium shall be of any force or effect unless it is assented to in writing by the Declarant.

Subsequent to the conveyance of a Unit to an owner, other than the Declarant, the prior written approval of the first mortgagees of Units to which sixty-seven percent (67%) of the voting power in the Condominium Association appertains shall be required in order to adopt any amendment to the Declaration and Bylaws which amendment would have the effect of altering: (a) The voting rights of the owners in the Condominium Association; (b) The manner of assessing Common Expenses, assessment liens or subordination of assessment liens; (c) The requirement of the Condominium Association reserves for replacement, maintenance, and repair of The Common Area; (d) The terms of the Declaration and Bylaws relating to responsibility for maintenance and repair of the Units, the Common Area or the Limited Common Area; (e) The terms of the Declaration and Bylaws relating to the insurance or fidelity bonds to be provided by the Condominium Association; (f) The terms of the Declaration and Bylaws stating which Units and under what conditions Units may be leased; (g) The terms of the Declaration and Bylaws relating to or adding restrictions to a Unit Owner's right to sell or transfer his or her Unit; (h) Any term of the Declaration and Bylaws that expressly benefits mortgage holders, insurers or guarantors; (i) The terms of the Declaration and Bylaws providing for the restoration or repair of the project after a hazard, damage, or partial condemnation; or (j) Any term of the Declaration and Bylaws relating to terminating the Condominium's legal status after substantial destruction or condemnation occurs.

No modification or amendment of the Bylaws may be adopted which will be inconsistent with the provisions of the Condominium Act ("Act") or with the provisions of the Declaration.

The Declaration and the Bylaws are to be found attached in Exhibits 1 and 2, respectively.

In addition to the easements, restrictions and permits and approvals referred to in Paragraph (h) above, the Condominium is affected by a first mortgage lien in favor of NBT Bank, N.A., conveyed by mortgage deed dated October 17, 2013, recorded in the Hillsborough Registry of Deeds at Book 8613, Page 2180 and by a Collateral Assignment of Leases and Rents in favor of NBT Bank, N.A., dated October 17, 2013 and recorded at Book 8613, Page 2199; and a second mortgage lien in favor of R&B Manchester, LLC conveyed by mortgage deed dated June 19, 2006 and recorded in said Registry at Book 7693, Page 1877, and subordinated to the NBT Bank, N.A. Mortgage pursuant to Subordination Agreement dated October 17, 2013 and recorded in said Registry at Book 8613, Page 2208. These mortgages provide the Declarant with financing to construct the roadways and utilities within the Condominium and the financing to construct the Condominium buildings and other improvements. The mortgage will be released with respect to the sold Unit at closing of the purchase of the Unit by a purchaser. In addition, the Declarant will provide each Unit Owner at the time of transfer of title with an affidavit stating that all services and materials provided in connection with the construction of the Unit has been paid. Failure to obtain such j. A general description of the management of the Condominium.

The Condominium will be managed by the Condominium Association. The Condominium Association will be governed by not less than three (3) or more than five (5) members of the Board of Directors. Following the period of Declarant Control, the Directors are elected by the Unit Owners at the annual meeting. The Declarant will retain control of the Condominium Association ("Declarant Control") during the period which extends for two (2) years from the date of recording of the Declaration, or when 75% of the Units have been conveyed, whichever occurs first. (For more information about the period of Declarant Control over the Condominium Association see Page 13.)

The Neighborhoods are managed by the Neighborhoods Association pursuant to the provisions of the Neighborhoods Covenants.

The total amount of the estimated common expenses required for the operation of the Condominium and the Neighborhoods will be set forth in the budgets for the fiscal year. The Budgets will be adopted by the Condominium Association and shall be assessed against the Unit Owners as monthly dues. The monthly Neighborhoods Association fees and Condominium Common Area assessments will be paid by each Unit Owner and each unit shall be liable for an equal share of the common expenses of the Condominium and the Neighborhoods Association fees. These fees and assessments will cover the costs of maintenance of all common facilities/amenities and Common Area insurance of the Condominium and the Neighborhoods Association.

At this time, the initial Condominium fee is $260.00 per Unit per month. A Reserve Fund for major maintenance and capital expenses which are approved by the Condominium Association is part of the Common Expenses reflected in the Condominium Association budget. This Reserve Fund is budgeted at $10,000.00 for the first full year of operation once all Units are sold.

A Condominium Association Budget for the next calendar year of the Condominium is attached as Exhibit 5.

Assessments by the Condominium Association, together with interest, costs, and reasonable attorney's fees for collection, if any, will be a lien upon each Owner's Unit. This means that if a Unit Owner fails to pay this assessment, the Condominium Association will have a lien on that Owner's Unit in the amount of the assessment, plus interest, costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

k. A description of Warranties provided by the Declarant.

Declarant makes no other warranty, or guaranty express or implied other than the warranty below, and as more specifically described in the Limited Warranty to the Purchase and Sales Agreement (Exhibit 3, Appendix I attached hereto):

Warranty as required by RSA 356-B:41, II

The Declarant Warrants the Unit premises against structural defects for one year from the date each is initially conveyed and any improvements in the Common Areas, if any, for one year. The one year referred to in the preceding sentence shall begin as to the Common Areas whenever the same has been completed.

For the purposes of this paragraph, no Unit shall be deemed conveyed unless conveyed to a bona fide purchaser. For the purposes of this paragraph, structural defects shall be those defects in components constituting any Unit or Common Area which reduce the stability or safety on the structure below accepted standards or restrict the normal intended use of all or part of the structure and which require repair, renovation, restoration or replacement. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to make the Declarant responsible for any items of maintenance relative to the Units or Common Areas. Each purchase shall be provided with a Limited Warranty at the time of the closing of his or her purchase of the Unit.

I. A general description of the Condominium Association.

The Condominium Association is the organization responsible for governing the Condominium, and organized in the form of a New Hampshire voluntary corporation. After the period of Declarant control, each Unit Owner shall be a member of the Condominium Association and shall have a vote in the Condominium Association equal to his or her Percentage Interest in the Common Area.

All of the normal operations of the Condominium Association will be accomplished under the direction of a five (5) member Board of Directors. After the period of Declarant control, the Unit Owners will participate directly in the election of the Board.

The Board of Directors may employ a Managing Agent to act in its behalf in the performance of its duties.

Initially, Directors will be appointed by the Declarant. The purpose of the Declarant's retaining control of the Board of Directors in the early stages of the Condominium's existence is to ensure the stability of the Condominium Association and to administer the Condominium's affairs until the new Unit Owners become familiar with the project. The Declarant may retain control of the Board of Directors for two (2) years following creation of the Condominium or until the Units to which seventy-five percent (75%) of the undivided interest in the Common Areas appertain have been conveyed, whichever occurs first. After termination of the Declarant's control of the Board of Directors, Directors will be elected by the Unit Owners at an annual membership meeting called by the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors elects the officers of the Condominium Association. The officers are a President, Secretary and Treasurer, and any other officers the Directors may deem necessary. The President must be a Director.

The operation of the Condominium Association is governed by the Articles of Agreement of the Association ("Articles") and the Condominium Bylaws. The Bylaws are recorded in the Hillsborough County Registry of Deeds along with the Declaration at the time the Condominium is created. In addition to provisions for a Board of Directors, Managing Agent and officers as discussed above, the Bylaws provide for annual and special meetings, common expense assessments, insurance, restrictions on the use of Units and Common Area, and numerous other matters affecting the occupancy and operation of the condominium. A copy of the Articles and Bylaws are attached as Exhibit 2.
